

Langston University Tulsa Students Receive Scholarships from the National Association of Blacks in Criminal Justice Oklahoma Chapter

Demarco Ousley and Marco Holmes both Sociology majors at LU/Tulsa recently received $500.00 dollar scholarships. The mission of the Oklahoma Chapter is to act upon the needs, concerns, and contributions of African American and other people of color as they relate to the administrative of equal justice.

The National Association of Blacks in Criminal Justice is a multi/ethnic non- partisan, non- profit association of criminal justice professionals and community leaders dedicated to improving the administration of justice. The Association was founded as a vehicle by which criminal justice practitioners could initiate positive changes from within, while increasing opportunities for the average citizen to better understand the nature and operation of our local, state, and federal criminal justice processes.

Photo Ron Young, LU-Tulsa

Left to right Demarco Ousley, Sociology student; Marco Holmes, Sociology student; Dr. Art Williams, Coordinator of Sociology and Arts and Sciences – LU/Tulsa; Reggie Hines, Deputy Director of Community Corrections; Anita Alford, President of National Association of Blacks in Criminal Justice Oklahoma Chapter; and Ann Tandy, Contract Monitor for Community Corrections.